Official Whitepaper

Community-Driven | Deflationary | Built for the Quantum Age

Introduction

Quantum Dawg ($QDAWG) is a community-driven digital asset inspired by the transformative potential of quantum computing and the emerging technological era it represents. Created as a symbol of collaboration, innovation, technology, and preparedness, Quantum Dawg seeks to unite a global community around the ideas of technological progress, continental collaboration, and collective participation.

The project is designed to foster an engaged ecosystem where holders, supporters, and contributors can collaborate to grow community awareness concerning emerging technologies, and continental inclusivity and participation. Through transparency, inclusivity, and long-term visioneering, $QDAWG aims to become a recognizable symbol of the anticipated commercial quantum computing reality.

Quantum Dawg is not merely a token — it is a community movement built around the belief that the future belongs to those who embrace collaborative innovation and adapt to change.

Our Vision

To become the leading community-driven meme and utility token of the quantum computing era — symbolizing technological advancement, collective resilience, and collaborative participation on a global scale.

We envision a world where the spirit of innovation is democratized through blockchain technology, and where every holder of $QDAWG is an active participant in a movement that celebrates and champions technological advancement in the quantum future.

Our Mission

Our mission is to build and sustain a vibrant, inclusive, and forward-thinking community united by a shared belief in the power of collaboration in technological progress. We are committed to:

- Fostering genuine community engagement and long-term holder loyalty through fair tokenomics and transparent governance.
- Creating sustainable deflationary pressure that preserves long-term token value.
- Partnering with like-minded projects, developers, and organizations to expand the reach and utility of $QDAWG.
- Supporting charitable causes that promote education in technology, STEM programs, and digital inclusion.
- Maintaining open, honest communication with our community at every stage of development.
- Promote responsible AI innovation, champion cybersecurity, build a strong global decentralized community, and grow the Quantum Dawg ecosystem together.

Tokenomics

The $QDAWG token economy has been carefully structured to reward long-term holders, maintain liquidity, and ensure the sustained growth of the ecosystem. All parameters have been designed with fairness, transparency, and community benefit at their core.

TOTAL	100,000,000	100%

Burn Mechanism

Quantum Dawg ($QDAWG) features an aggressive deflationary model designed to reduce circulating supply over time, thereby creating long-term value for holders. The burn mechanics are as follows:

- A burn of 10% of the total supply will be executed at token launch, immediately reducing circulating supply and signalling commitment to a deflationary model.
- An ongoing burn of 0.1% is applied to every on-chain transaction, ensuring that the token supply continuously decreases with each buy, sell, or transfer.

This dual-burn model (launch burn + per-transaction burn) ensures that $QDAWG becomes progressively scarcer over time, aligning the long-term interests of holders with the health of the ecosystem.

Transaction Tax Structure

A 2% tax and 5% tax applies to buy and sell transactions respectively. The tax distribution is as follows:

Tax Component	Rate (Buy & Sell)
Buy Tax (Total)	2%
Sell Tax (Total)	5%
Liquidity (from Buy/Sell)	1% / 1%
Marketing (from Buy/Sell)	1% / 4%

The 2% allocation is automatically added to the liquidity pool on each transaction, reinforcing price stability. The 5% marketing allocation funds community growth, promotional campaigns, team management, and ecosystem partnerships.

Allocation Details

Liquidity Pool (45%)

Half of the total $QDAWG supply — 45 million tokens — is dedicated to the liquidity pool at launch. This substantial allocation ensures deep liquidity, reduces price slippage for traders, and provides a stable trading environment for all participants. Liquidity pool tokens will be locked to protect holders.

Initial Burn (10%)

10 million $QDAWG tokens will be permanently burned at the time of launch. This immediate reduction in circulating supply reflects our commitment to deflationary tokenomics and creates instant scarcity, benefiting early adopters and long-term holders alike.

Partnerships (7%)

7 million $QDAWG tokens are reserved for strategic partnerships. These allocations will be used to onboard ecosystem collaborators, negotiate listings, integrate with DeFi protocols, and build alliances with other blockchain communities that share our vision for the quantum age.

Team Allocation (5%)

The development and core team holds 5% of the total supply.

Treasury (15%)

A reserve of 15 million tokens is held in a multi-signature wallet for future use cases including new exchange listings, bridge integrations, additional liquidity pools, and unforeseen but beneficial ecosystem developments. Utilization of reserve funds will be communicated to the community transparently.

Marketing (10%)

10 million $QDAWG tokens are reserved for marketing purposes. These allocations will be used to further onboard more ecosystem collaborators and build alliances with other blockchain communities that share our vision for the quantum age.

Development (5%)

Quantum Dawg is committed to building a lasting digital asset. 5 million $QDAWG will be committed to the development (building and implementation of necessary features and modifications) into the utilities of the project.

Community Airdrop (3%)

3 million $QDAWG tokens will be distributed through community airdrops. These distributions reward early adopters, social media advocates, community contributors, and promotional campaign participants. Airdrops are a key mechanism for growing our holder base organically and creating grassroots awareness.

Community & Governance

Quantum Dawg is fundamentally a community project. Decisions about the direction of the project, developmental allocations, reserve fund utilization, and future developments will increasingly involve the community through proper communication and, eventually, on-chain governance mechanisms.

Our governance philosophy is rooted in the belief that the most resilient and valuable projects are those where the community has a genuine stake and voice. Token holders are not merely investors — they are co-creators of the Quantum Dawg universe.

- Community proposals will be surfaced and discussed openly via official communication channels.
- Major financial decisions, including reserve fund deployments, will be announced and subject to community review.

Team & Partnerships

Quantum Dawg is built and supported by a passionate, continentally distributed team of developers, designers, marketers, and community managers united by a shared vision for the quantum future. While team members currently operate with a degree of anonymity standard to early-stage community projects, our commitment to transparency will grow as the project matures.

Strategic partnerships with liquidity providers, auditing firms, launchpads, and complementary blockchain projects will be announced progressively across our roadmap phases. All partnerships are evaluated against criteria of shared values, technical integrity, and community benefit.
